WATCHING THE WATCHES AND OTHER CURRENT NOTES

... The yodeling is stilled on Embassy Row. Mrs. Anton Hegner, the Swiss Ambassador's wife, has skipped home to Switzerland after a heavy year-and-a-bit of Social Life. This is a bi-oceanic marriage. Mrs. H. is called "Dr. Barbara Hegner" over there. That's how that works ... And G. Gordon Liddy's moving into yet another line of biz: He's on a new syndicated chattershow for the tube. Already in the can, as they say: his chinwag with a CIAer. Liddy's hopped aboard the brand-new Nutilus Network, which is owned by the man who makes those ghastly machines that pull you around. So much cooking. So little space.
